DATA CONTROLLER

MERCURIO S.r.l., with registered office in Via Mauro Macchi 8, 20124 Milan (MI), VAT number 02425450034 (hereinafter, 'MERCURIO'), as Data Controller, will process the personal data provided through the website <http://www.mercurio-group.com> (hereinafter, 'Website'), in accordance with the provisions of applicable legislation on privacy and personal data protection.

DEFINITION OF COOKIES

Cookies are small files that are sent to the browser in use and saved on the device of those who visit a website such as that at the address <http://www.mercurio-group.com>. Cookies enable the Website to function efficiently and improve its performance.

They also provide information to the Site owner for statistical or advertising purposes, mainly to personalise the user's browsing experience by remembering their preferences (for example, remembering the language set). Cookies can be divided according to their origin, whether they are first-party or third-party; their duration, whether they are session or persistent; and finally, their purpose, whether they are technical or profiling.

COOKIES USED BY THE WEBSITE

MERCURIO, in accordance with national and European provisions on the protection of personal data, informs users that the Website uses technical cookies, i.e. cookies that allow navigation within the Website and the proper functioning of the Website itself. If technical cookies are removed through browser settings, navigation within the Website may not be possible, in whole or in part. These cookies are all first-party cookies as they are delivered directly by MERCURIO on the Website. They are divided into:

a) Navigation cookies

Navigation cookies are session cookies; therefore, once the browser is closed, they are automatically deactivated. From the first access, they allow the Website to function correctly and allow the user to view the content on their device by recognising the language and market of the country from which the user chooses to connect.

b) Functional cookies

Functional cookies are cookies that, based on the user's express consent, allow the user to be recognised on subsequent visits, so that they do not have to enter their data each time they visit. Functional cookies are not essential for the functioning of the Website but improve the quality and experience of navigation. Functional cookies are often persistent cookies as they remain stored on the user's computer even after the browser is closed, until their expiry date or until the user decides to delete them.

MERCURIO also informs you that the Website also uses third-party cookies to collect anonymous information on how users use the Website, for example: pages visited, time spent on the Website, traffic sources, geographical origin, age, gender, etc. In particular, the Website uses the Google Analytics service offered by Google Ireland Limited. For further information on Google Analytics, please visit <https://www.google.it/policies/privacy/partners/>. You can disable Google Analytics by opt-out at: <https://tools.google.com/dlpage/gaoptout>.

Finally, MERCURIO informs you that the Website does not use profiling cookies.
